FAIRLY CAUGHT.

WORDS BY

FRED. RAWKINS.

MUSIC BY

LOUIS DIEHL.

4

PRESENTED

AS A PREMIUM WITH

Ehrichs' Fashion Quarterly.

FAIRLY CAUGHT.

Words FRED. RAWKINS. Music by LOUIS DIEHL.

1. A vil - lage cu - rate lov'd a maid, A lit - tle gay co - quette; Who
2. A let - ter to her par - ents came, And this is what it said: "Since with his heart at foot - ball play'd, And oft - en made him fret. The more he wooed her, Cla - ra would not change her name,, A wi - dow I have wed." sad heart - ed turn'd the poco rall. a tempo.

day by day, The more she teas'd him too; Un - till at length he went a - way, To maid a - side, And then her grief was such, That all day long she cry - ing, cried, "I see what that would do, "Ah! me," then sigh'd she, "I am lone - ly as can lov'd him ve - ry much." "Ah! me," then sobb'd she, "I am wretched as can be; Well, well, maid-ens tell, Lov - ers sometimes break the spell."

be; Woe, woe, maid-ens know, Lov - ers oft - en serve us so."

f p poco rit. a tempo.

poco.

But soon a - gain his wont-ed place, That art - ful cu - rate sought; He

rit. p

saw the pret - ty pen - sive face And whisper'd "fair - ly caught! Be mine, there's noth-ing colla voce.

to de - ter,— For - give my sim - ple plan:— 'Tis true, my dear, I mar - ried her, But giocoso.

to an - oth - er man." "Ah! me," then sang she, "I am hap - py as can be, Say, say,— Maid - ens aye, Lov - ers al - ways find a way.....

f ff

EVERY SUBSCRIBER TO

EHRICHS' FASHION QUARTERLY

Will be presented with one of the following pieces of Music, which may be selected at the time of forwarding subscription.

BOCCACCIO MARCH, - - -	Von Suppe.
MASCOTTE QUADRILLE, - -	"Mascotte."
SIRENES WALTZES, - - - -	Waldteufel.
TRIUMPHAL MARCH from Michael Strogoff, -	Artus.
FAIRLY CAUGHT, (Song) - - -	Diehl.

The retail price of this music is 40 cents. The subscription to the FASHION QUARTERLY is only 50 cents a year.

Premium List and Prospectus sent free on application to the publishers,

EHRICH BROS.,

Eighth Avenue and 24th Street,

NEW YORK.